"Jumpin' down the bus as the captain gives direction... approach all the people you meet along!"

A line in a song MFT's Theme during the time when MFT was the mainstream of mission in UC Philippines. (Circa 80's) That was the time when we are laying a financial foundation, so that we can educate more university students and professors to be part of the mission.

Since Philippines is made up of 7,000+ islands we would travel by mini bus and boats for weeks and sleep anywhere we can while out fundraising, and comeback to HQ only after the period of fundraising condition is finished.
