Bolivia: High Noon Bolivian Workshop

On June 1 and 2, the Santa Cruz-Bolivia church welcomed the "High Noon" organization for their "Owner of Your Sexuality" workshop. This event was designed to foster a culture of empowerment among youth and blessed families, focusing on creating radiant couples and thriving family relationships. A total of 33 youths and 35 blessed families participated, engaging in lectures on:

- Creating a Shadowless Culture
- Purity
- The Nature of Addiction
- A Life of Sexual Integrity
- School of Love

The workshop provided a reflective environment where participants addressed social challenges such as pornography, addiction, and sexual intimacy - issues that also impact the Unificationist community. Speakers drew upon the teachings of the True Parents, illustrating how families can embody the midday sun, a state where no shadows exist.

The event offered a safe space for youth to open their hearts and deepen their understanding of the importance of maintaining sexual and emotional purity. It also helped them improve relationships with their parents and clarify the purpose of their lives, contributing to their personal and spiritual growth.

Argentina: High Noon Argentina Workshop

On June 8-9, High Noon conducted a "Owner of Your Sexuality" workshop in Argentina. This two-day event included an educational workshop for young adults, focusing on living a life like pure water, free from shadows. Sunday's program was designed for families, featuring sessions for couples and parents centered on cultivating heavenly sexuality.

These programs supported the creation of heavenly intimacy within marriages and provided a space for open discussions about sex and pornography with children. The workshop attracted 50 youths and 35 young adult couples and parents.

Esperanza Gomez, the national president of FFWPU Argentina, expressed her appreciation, stating, "We feel very fortunate to receive High

Noon in Argentina. High Noon's work is an inspiration from God and a vital resource for our children to confront the cultural challenges posed by external influences on sexual integrity. It addresses the struggles our children face with pornography and other threats to purity."

Emanuel Sayavedra, YSP president in Argentina, also shared his insights: "These are really precious tools that help us confront deep issues that the youth, young couples, and older couples face, whether they are addictions like pornography, masturbation, or other challenges to sexual integrity. It goes to the core of our relationships and aligns with what True Parents talk about in building true families."

Brazil: High Noon Retreat at Heavenly South America Headquarters

The High Noon Retreat took place at the Heavenly South America headquarters in Brazil on June 15-16.

The retreat opened with spirited praise, and Vice President Mario Marcos of Brazil expressed his hopes for expanding High Noon activities in the region. David Wolfenberger, co-founder of High Noon, also took the opportunity to explain the true meaning of the project.

The first day featured a series of lectures, group discussions, and Q and A sessions. Topics included understanding true sexuality, combating the temptations of pornography and inappropriate relationships, and addressing the risks associated with sexual relations.

These sessions provided participants with valuable insights and answers to long-standing questions.

On the second day, the focus shifted to purity and absoluteness, with discussions on marital, parental, and child education. This training was designed to foster deeper understanding and practical approaches to family life.

Participants expressed great satisfaction with the retreat, noting it as a time when they felt significantly closer to achieving the ideal family vision aspired to by the Heavenly Parent and True Parents.
