food for thought

Parenting By Asking Questions

David Augsburger, author, and educator. said, "Being heard is so close to being loved that for the average person, they are almost indistinguishable." Learning to ask questions and really listen to what our child says is an incredible parenting tool. It is important for us to listen, not to respond with our own ideas or opinions, but to understand what lies behind the words. With practice, this can lead us to place of empathy and greater connection.
