

Day of Peace in Vladivostok

Maria Nazarova - Russia, Vladivostok, September 22, 2018

Just imagine: Sergey Yesenin's verses, songs and romances on his words to the guitar performed by famous musicians and professional actors. Melodious music background and rebellious spirit of the poet! The platform in front of the A.M. Gorky Library turned on September 22, 2018, the birthday of the poet, into a scene with different venues! Any guest could receive S. Esenin's personal message ... and leave for another reader a verse message at the "Styholot" action. In the library's street box, you could leave your favorite poetry books by S. Yesenin and other equally interesting books for the opening of the reading room "The Soul of Yesenin."

You could also plant a flower to decorate the Alley of Readers. No less interesting in Vladivostok was the action "Let there be peace!" related to the International Day of Peace. "Wellnessclub" and "BoraKami" clubs with Marina Lapteva and poetess Natalia Forikova, as well as the Universal Peace Federation represented by the Sergienko family, held a master class on making "Peace Flowers." The readers of the library and guests of Vladivostok from different countries took part in the action!

Many flowers have been handmade in different cities of Russia, on the Moscow-Vladivostok train, and sent by mail!
