On June 7, the Prague Exhibition Grounds came alive for the annual Family Day, and the Czech Family Federation for World Peace and Unification (FFWPU) was right at the heart of the festivities. Continuing a proud tradition that began in 2015 - and has paused only during the COVID-19 pandemic - the Czech chapter once again brought its vibrant energy and message of family unity to the public square.

The venue saw thousands of visitors stream through over the course of the day, with hundreds stopping by the FFWPU booth to connect, create, and celebrate.

High Engagement Across Generations

The FFWPU booth quickly became a bustling hub of activity, offering meaningful experiences tailored for every age group:

Honoring Marriage: In a deeply moving highlight, 63 couples participated in receiving the Holy Wine, sharing in the Toast of True Love to honor and renew their commitment to one another.

Creative Fun for Children: Younger visitors poured their energy into interactive crafts, including colorful bracelet making, traditional origami, and face painting.

Inspirational Youth Outreach: This year, the team successfully engaged teenagers through a specially designed Talent Test, which sparked significant interest and opened up great conversations with the next generation.

A Heartfelt Success Built on Dedication

"The profound encounters we witnessed - especially the touching moments with couples deeply moved by the Toast of True Love - are a direct reflection of the heart poured into this event."

An outreach success of this scale is only possible through collective devotion. FFWPU Czech Republic extends its sincere gratitude to all the brothers and sisters who invested their time, energy, and care both before and during the event. It was their warmth and dedication that made the booth a welcoming space for so many meaningful encounters.

Looking Ahead

The energy from Family Day continues. The organizing team is currently processing the new contacts collected during the event and is eager to follow up with the many individuals and families who expressed a desire to stay connected.

Thank you once again to the incredible organizing team and to everyone who came out to support this wonderful day of outreach!
