

WFWP UK: Her Story Inspires - Every Woman Has A Valuable Story To Tell

Mitty Tohma
March 29, 2025

The reason we started Her Story Inspires is rooted in a deep belief that every woman has a unique and valuable story to tell, one that can inspire, educate, and uplift others.

Unfortunately, many women's voices have historically been overlooked or underestimated, and we wanted to create a space where women's stories—whether of triumph, challenge, resilience, or growth—are heard and celebrated. We recognized and saw the incredible strength, resilience, and power that women have when they come together. Our goal was to harness that power—to create a space where women can share their journeys, connect with each other, and be reminded of the immense potential that lies within all of us.

We created Her Story Inspires to amplify women's voices, inspire confidence, foster a sense of solidarity and to create a ripple effect of inspiration. We want every woman who attends to leave feeling more confident, more connected, and more capable of achieving her dreams.

This was the first event of a series/regular events to follow.

