HerStory

Prof. Dr. Angela Mickley

Prof. Mickley is an expert on peace. To this day, the professor initiates and leads conflict management programmes in numerous crisis areas.

Actually, I'm more of a scaredy-cat," confesses peace researcher and peace educator Angela Mickley and smiles. "But in conflict or dangerous situations, I bring out my accumulated competence." The passionate professor has often proven in her life that she can do just that. Her stage is usually world politics, where she campaigned for reconciliation in the Northern Ireland conflict at the beginning of the 70s of the last century, among other things. Other stops were Namibia, Moldova and Georgia. Since 1991, she has also been involved in mediation in schools. "No matter where I turn up, my goal is always a lasting change in behavior," says Angela Mickley.
