Peace and Democracy in Africa
Are we at a crossroads?

Tuesday, August 26, 2025 @ 2-3 PM EDT

After 30 years of conflict in the Democratic Republic of Congo, and an estimated 6 million victims of the conflict, are we at a crossroads? Is the U.S.-brokered Rwanda and DR Congo peace deal opening new opportunities for peace and even democracy? What role can governments, NGOs and the mass communication media play to bring dignity and justice to the population of this troubled region, and as an example for the continent.

Dr. Roger Alfani is an adjunct professor in the University Core at Seton Hall University, and a research fellow at the School of Diplomacy and International Relations. Amb. Christ Nyembo Barwani, is Regional Director of the U.S. Institute of Diplomacy and Human Rights, and a Congolese peace ambassador, diplomat, and youth advocate. Dr. Edgar Bellow has extensive expertise in geopolitics, international management, and crisis and conflict management.
