On the 14th August, WFWP Wales hosted a cultural gathering at the home of a Classical Indian Dancer named Rekha. The intimate group started off with the song "There's a New World Coming," and then Mrs. Kalpana Natarajan gave a testimony about her life in India and Indian Culture and Traditions.

Rekha then demonstrated some beautiful Classical Indian Dance movements, after which she invited the group to one of her dance workshops.

Finally, they had a wonderful lunch of Indian style curries and tasty snacks prepared and brought by all the women who attended. The group could all chat and get to know each other better. Everyone said they would come again and that they look forward to it!
