Claim Your Victories

Claim Your Victories
As a Parent & Grandparent

Be humble and present, live with authenticity, be willing to admit and learn from mistakes

As a parent or grandparent, it is easy to see the mistakes that we have made: losing our temper, being late to pick up our kid afterschool, burning the dinner, forgetting an adult child's birthday, saying something mean in the heat of the moment that we cannot easily take back, missing a drama or orchestra performance because of work, and so many more.

As we are now one month into 2025 or just starting the new year according to the Lunar calendar, it is a good opportunity to claim our victories of the past year or so. Without doing this periodically, we can lose perspective of the growth and the areas in which we have made progress.
