

True Mother rekindled my faith in the church at Madison Square Garden

K. Tamura
July 15, 2017

My name is K. Tamura and I am a second generation Unificationist who was Blessed in marriage in Korea in 2014. I am still happily Blessed to my better half.

Being in the army, I am unable to attend church events and gatherings, especially because there is not a church center nearby my residence. Prior to attending True Mother's speech at Madison Square Garden, the last time I attended church was in North Carolina 2 years ago. I had drifted away from the church and its principles and I struggled in my personal life and work life.

Attending this event, hearing and seeing True Mother, attending church service the next morning at Belvedere, and spending time with my mother in New York rekindled my faith in the church, God, and True Parents. I'd even go as far as saying my faith has been restored twice as strong as before.

Just being in the presence of True Mother, as well as thousands of fellow brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles, made me realize what being a second generation Unificationist is really about.

I began to realize just how much sacrifice was made in order for everyone to be at Madison Square Garden that day. I also realized that I want to understand the Divine Principle to a deeper extent and dedicate my life to live for the sake of others and to serve True Parents and God.

I want to thank True Mother for restoring my faith and helping me realize just how precious life is—to cherish all those around me by spreading God's seeds of love to those people.