

Somehow, Somewhere I Have Not Protected My Community From The Tornadoes

Total devastation - 100+ Dead, Injured After Historic Tornado Outbreak in Kentucky

We had a big storm move through our state of Kentucky today.

Yesterday there was a stillness and calm seldom to be had in our mountains.

Today people died and damage was done due to the storm.

We always seem to be in the eye of the storm. It is happening all around us and yet it is a blessing to us to fill our spring to supply us with water to the house and barn.

Reminds me of the story of the liberation of True Father in the labor camp in North Korea. True Father told the prisoners, stay with me and you will be protected!

And yet somehow, somewhere I have failed! For I have not protected my community, my state of Kentucky.

Which means I must get ready and be better prepared for the next storm!

God's love and blessings to you all.
