

Hyun Jin Moon's Global Peace Foundation: Network Call Recording Available

Mark Farr
July 30, 2026

Hi,

As part of our global youth leadership community, we’re excited to share the latest Global Network Call recording with you!

In this recent session, Dr. Gladys Kalema-Zikusoka and Lawrence Zikusoka shared insights from their work connecting wildlife conservation, public health, and community development in Uganda. They explored how cross-sector collaboration can protect endangered gorillas while improving the well-being of the communities living alongside them. The recording is now available on the GPF Community Hub, and we invite you to watch, reflect, and stay connected with young leaders from around the world.

Watch Recording

What is the Global Network Call?

The Global Network Call is a space for young leaders to hear from peacebuilders across different regions, explore timely leadership topics, and connect with a global community committed to service, peace, and positive change.

Stay Connected on the GPF Community Hub

Visit the GPF Community Hub to access event recordings, learn about upcoming opportunities, join discussions and polls, and connect with other young leaders:
globalpeace.info/gpcorps-hub

About Global Peace Leadership Corps

Global Peace Leadership Corps, or GPCorps, equips young leaders through training, global conversations, and opportunities for action, helping them grow in character, service, and peacebuilding leadership.

You can also follow us on social media: Facebook | Instagram

Thank you for being part of this global youth leadership community. We hope you'll continue engaging with us in future conversations.

Warm Regards,

Mark Farr
Program Manager

Follow us on Social Media

Share this Email

