Meet The Mother Of Peace

HAK JA HAN MOON

Known to millions around the world as Mother Moon, she has dedicated more than 50 years of her life to the realization of peace. As the only female religious leader operating on such a global level, her powerful message has inspired millions to transcend national, racial, and cultural boundaries.

Born in 1943 in Japanese-occupied North Korea, she began life as an innocent village girl, nourishing her connection to God and communing with the simple beauty of nature around her. However, the ravages of the Korean War forced her, her mother and her grandmother to flee south. Their journey was shocking and harrowing. With unwavering faith, they pressed on.

In Mother of Peace she describes in rich detail the mystical series of events that led to her marriage at age 17 to the charismatic Rev. Dr. Sun Myung Moon.

From Chapter Two of Mother of Peace:

“Everyone desires peace, but peace does not come easily. If it were as commonplace as stone on the side of a country road or trees on a mountainside, we would never have experienced the terrible wars and conflicts that plague the human world. To experience true peace, we must first practice true love without expectation of reward.”

★★★★★ Faith, Sacrifice, Love, and Action bring Restoration

Reviewed in the United States on June 22, 2020

I was so inspired reading this book. Mother Moon developed a strong faith in God as a young child--"God is my father"--and that closeness has guided her through a course of hills and valleys that continues to this day. The word "sacrifice" is mentioned throughout the book. I found that profound because faith by itself is belief within the mind, but sacrifice is putting that faith into practice daily by one's actions. Mother Moon has provided me a model for self-reflection of my own faith and sacrifice to do God's Will. Thank you for this heartfelt memoir and its timely lessons for me and others, especially at this turbulent time in human history.

The Mother of Peace is a powerful story of overcoming obstacles, with faith and determination. While so many in the world choose to be victims and blame others for their circumstances, Hak Ja Han shows how to take responsibility and be victorious. Her beginnings in war torn North Korea, being raised by her mother and grandmother with deep faith, to becoming the head of a world wide movement for peace. This is an inspirational story of hope and peace which will give many people the strength to rise above their circumstances.

★★★★★ An all inclusive plan for Peace based on Parental love.

Dr. Hak Jan Han Moon lays out a proven plan for peace that is not dependent on national, religious or political affiliation. Her path was a painful one, surviving as a child refuge in war ravaged Korea, enduring the loss of 4 children and experiencing racism, criticism and religious persecution. Yet her center is always the Heavenly Parents and the experience of God's love for all people.

I distantly knew about Mrs. Hak Ja Han, her husband, and their impressive endeavors beneficially impacting so many people and nations. I'm only several chapters into this memoir, and it has already opened so much insight into her sincere absolute resolve to offer her life to God, even from such a young child. It also helped me gain perspective of the serious challenges she faced while growing up in a war torn Korea. I can't deny that my respect for her and her continual sacrificial efforts even at such an advanced age has deepened.

She makes bold statements, I appreciate that; the world needs more people confident in who they are that can back it up with their experience and impact. This one will really get you thinking and reflecting deeply about your own life.

★★★★★ Fascinating!

Reviewed in the United States on June 30, 2020

Such a fascinating look into the life of a woman at the center of a new religion who is totally committed to her purpose of comforting the heart of God. Mother Moon's unwavering faith and relationship with God has taken her from a small village in war-torn North Korea, into a marriage with a man just as single-mindedly dedicated to God as she is. This book gives us a view into their wedding, their marriage, their relationship, and their life, as Mother Moon gave birth to 14 children, and the two of them traveled around the world on this mission, and amassed a worldwide followership/movement.

When I pick it up, the time disappears. There is no one who can tell the story of the Unification Church and Father Moon's mission from the kind of perspective that she has, and it feels surreal to be experiencing her life through this book. Highly recommend it!

★★★★★ We all can have a very close relationship with God.

Reviewed in the United Kingdom on July 18, 2020

Mother Moon as she is affectionately known leads us gently into an understanding of her life and mission. I see so many similarities with the life of Rev Sun Myung Moon her husband as well, her deep love of nature, her intense spiritual training, her gradual awakening to her true value in her relationship with her Heavenly Father. Her vibrant and deep relationship with God is surely the source of her spiritual courage and true love. In more recent years she expressed that she was God's only begotten daughter as her relationship and communication with her parent God is so deep and natural. She draws us all into this realization that we all have this potential to be filled with God's spirit and essence as well. All human beings can have this profound understanding of their value as God's children and that we can have a beautiful relationship with our God who is our Parent. God does not need to be distant and all mighty but is as close to us as our husband or wife, our parents and our children. This is my initial review and commentary having only read the early chapters of this memoir. I am sure that i will find further insights and realizations as i delve deeper into this memoir 'the mother of peace'. I wholeheartedly recommend this book to others.
