West Meets East in Northeast Asia: A Values Proposition

TUESDAY, April 20 from 2-3 pm EDT (New York time)

Hello ,

In this first in a series, a panel of distinguished academicians explores the impact of culture and values that drive society and politics in Northeast Asia. To what extent do the interplay of the East's Confucian and the West's Christian values mitigate the political dynamics of democracy and authoritarianism in South and North Korea, the People's Republic of China, Taiwan and Japan? Would eschewing the dialectic and finding harmonies within the competing value systems harbor the potential to resolve these intractable conflicts, heal historical resentments and deliver the elusive peace?
