

My Love for Morning Devotion

So this morning I have to make choice between employment or morning devotion.

Morning devotion is really a time to listen to holy songs on FaceBook before the actual devotion starts in preparation to hear Dr. [Chung Sik] Yong and others. Eternal life in Christ love is what everyone who has a real conscience should desire.

Thank you everyone for the preparation you put into meeting God and your neighbors in the morning. There is no better way to wake up or in strong terms get up and show reverence to life. And on a personal note life is not much without true friends.

So pray for one another this morning as each of us have a course as looping as it may be back to God and a purer heart and conscience. Thank you Moon family for True Parents' education and raising like parents at your breast.

Learning to forgive oneself runs a very close 2nd to learning in time to forgive others as well for things that are not like a true parent.

Pray for me as I so ever try to know the indemnity that lies before me in the towards reconciliation with others. Let's inherit the earth. There are going to be days like this when I cannot be on morning devotion due to job situations. Make an acquaintance with someone today centering on a purpose.

Happy Sunday morning. Amen
