

Nominations for the Grace Miller Award 2019

Matthew Huish
June 1, 2019

The Grace Miller Award celebrates an exceptional young member of the FFWPU community for their hard work and accomplishments in their community over the previous year.

- Nominees should be aged between 16-25
- Nominees should have demonstrated an exemplary life of faith
- Nominees should have made an impact in their local FFWPU community or in their neighbourhood (e.g. at school/university)

The Background:

At the age of 56, Grace Miller joined the Unification Movement and dedicated the rest of her years towards living a life with God and for the sake of others. She is remembered most for her motherly heart and her appreciation for 2nd Generation members.

In 2001, Grace's son – Tim Miller – created the 'Grace Miller Award' as a way of giving recognition to young Unificationists and Blessed Children, and to honour Grace's memory.

Do you know an exceptional young member deserving of this year's award? Nominate them for all their hard work in 2018.

Nominations deadline: 11:59pm on Sunday 9th June

The winner of the 2019 Grace Miller Award will be publicly recognised at the Annual Gathering Festival on Saturday 29th June.

Last Year's Winner of the Grace Miller Award:

Elna-Marie Fortune received the Grace Miller award last year for her dedication to her church community alongside managing a hectic work schedule.

The 2018 'Grace Miller Award' was given to Elna-Marie, for her commitment to her local South London community as part of the South London HARP committee. After coming back from her gap year programme (STF Europe), Elna jumped into two years of volunteering for her community. This involved arranging youth services (twice every month), in addition to planning various events/activities for the younger 2nd Generation members.

She took on the responsibility as a way to continue to grow in her life of faith and practice the lessons she learnt while on her gap year program.
