

Belvedere Family Church: Reiki Sessions at White house with Min Hwa

Hi everyone!

My name is Min Hwa Jones and I want to announce that I'll be offering Jikiden Reiki healing sessions at the White house for our Belvedere Family community.

What is Jikiden Reiki?

Simply put, Jikiden Reiki is a Japanese energy healing technique that can help with many different conditions. Treatments are carried out by the practitioner placing their hands directly on the recipient, who remains fully dressed throughout the session while lying down. By doing this hands on, the practitioner effectively acts as a conduit for Reiki energy to pass through him or her in greater abundance, assisting and boosting the natural healing ability of the recipient's body.

What to expect in a session?

We will start by sharing where you are experiencing physical discomforts or pain. You will lie on a massage table and then I will place my hands in those specific areas and let the Reiki energy flow to those areas. It can be a very relaxing experience lasting 45 minutes.
