Peace Federation
International

Global population just passed 8 billion mostly due to sub-Saharan countries whose resource plights dominate the media. This is temporary: Asia and industrialized countries lack children. After a peak there will be a dramatic lack of people nearly everywhere. Israel is unique among rich nations to be baby-friendly. Join Adi Sasaki, Secretary General of Universal Peace Federation Israel and Daniel Hess, software property rights professional and demographics activist as they examine why Israel is alone among the industrial nations in keep its birthrate up to sustainable levels.

Sponsored by the International Association of Academicians for Peace of Universal Peace Federation
