

UPF USA: After the Biden-Xi Summit -- Tuesday, November 29 from 2 to 3 PM

Larry Moffitt
November 28, 2022

AFTER THE BIDEN-XI SUMMIT
Did peaceful cooperation take a step forward or was it just words?
Tuesday, November 29, 2022: 2 PM EST

Robert Manning
Distinguished Senior Fellow,
Stimson Center | Reimagining
US Grand Strategy Project

Clark Packard
Research Fellow for trade
policy, Cato Institute

Guy Taylor
National Security Team
Leader, The Washington
Times

Michael Jenkins
President, Universal Peace
Federation International

The U.S. is the dominant world superpower with the largest economy. China pursues its sense of “manifest destiny,” seeing opportunity everywhere, projecting confidence to run the table on manufacturing and trade, semiconductors, weaponry, the South China Sea and Taiwan. Outcomes remain unpredictable, but many have a strong feeling, whether hopeful or foreboding, that the direction of US-China relations will shape the world over the horizon.

Sponsored by the International Association for Peace & Economic Development of Universal Peace Federation

LIVE STREAM U.S. UPF.ORG/LIVE

Zoom Registration @UPFUSA @UPFUSA

After the Biden-Xi Summit: Did peaceful cooperation take a step forward or was it just words?

Tuesday, November 29, 2022 at 2 PM

The U.S. is the dominant world superpower with the largest economy. China pursues its sense of “manifest destiny,” seeing opportunity everywhere, projecting confidence to run the table on manufacturing and trade, semiconductors, weaponry, the South China Sea and Taiwan. Outcomes remain unpredictable, but many have a strong feeling, whether hopeful or foreboding, that the direction of US-China relations will shape the world over the horizon. Join our panel of geopolitical experts Robert Manning of the Stimson Center and Clark Packard of the Cato Institute, along with Guy Taylor, veteran correspondent and National Security Team Leader of The Washington Times.

The link to register and enter:

us-upf-org.zoom.us/meeting/register/tZwoduqrqTgoGNzbMcwwfPVorlC-nyHQaltw

Tuesday, November 29, 2022 at 2 PM

Sponsored by the Universal Peace Federation's International Association for Peace and Economic Development

see flyer attached

AFTER THE BIDEN-XI SUMMIT

Did peaceful cooperation take a step forward or was it just words?

Tuesday, November 29, 2022: 2 PM EST

Robert Manning

Distinguished Senior Fellow,
Stimson Center's Reimagining
US Grand Strategy Project

Clark Packard

Research Fellow for trade
policy, Cato Institute

Guy Taylor

National Security Team
Leader, The Washington
Times

Michael Jenkins

President, Universal Peace
Federation International

The U.S. is the dominant world superpower with the largest economy. China pursues its sense of “manifest destiny,” seeing opportunity everywhere, projecting confidence to run the table on manufacturing and trade, semiconductors, weaponry, the South China Sea and Taiwan. Outcomes remain unpredictable, but many have a strong feeling, whether hopeful or foreboding, that the direction of US-China relations will shape the world over the horizon.

Sponsored by the International Association for Peace &
Economic Development of Universal Peace Federation

LIVE STREAM

US.UPF.ORG/LIVE

Zoom Registration

@UPFUSA

@UPFUSA