In today's climate of political polarization, we are desperately in need of ways to bridge the divide between left and right, between faith-based and secular worldviews. We will examine the Dignity Index, co-founded by Tami Pyfer and Tim Shriver, directors of UNITE, a non-profit aimed at easing divisions and elevating political dialogue. Please join Ms. Pyfer and Dr. Thomas Selover to hear from innovators in this field on how to bring more dignity and mutual respect into the public square.
