

North Korea, Iran (Hamas), Russia and China: Axis of Authoritarianism - Nov. 7

Larry Moffitt
November 6, 2023

The Washington Times FOUNDATION PRESENTS
THE WASHINGTON BRIEF
North Korea, Iran (Hamas), Russia and China:
The Axis of Authoritarianism

 GUEST PANELIST Amb. Robert G. Joseph Senior Scholar, National Institute of Public Policy	 Ambassador Joseph DeTrani Security Issues commentator; former Special Envoy for negotiations with North Korea	 Dr. Alexandre Mansourov Professor, Center for Security Studies, Georgetown University	 Dr. Michael Jenkins President, The Washington Times Foundation
---	--	--	---

Experts have referred to the growing collaboration of North Korea, Iran, Russia and China as the "axis of authoritarianism." North Korea has a well-known missile connection with Iran and is growing closer to Russia and China. Iran's relations with Russia and China have also grown much closer. And now we have a conflict in the Middle East brought on by Hamas, a proxy of Iran. The elephant in the room is that Iran has proven its ability to enrich uranium to weapons grade, and unless we fundamentally change our policy toward Iran, the next Middle East conflict will be even more dangerous than today. And there is always a next time.

Join Amb. Robert G. Joseph, PhD, Senior Scholar at the National Institute of Public Policy and a former Undersecretary of State and advisor to President George W. Bush on WMD, along with Amb. Joseph DeTrani, former U.S. envoy to the six-party talks and Dr. Alexandre Mansourov, professor of security studies at Georgetown, as we examine this aspect of the world order.

Tuesday, November 7, 2023 | 2-3 ET
Register at washingtonbrief.org

The Washington Brief webcast
North Korea, Iran (Hamas), Russia and China
The Axis of Authoritarianism

Tuesday, November 7, 2023 from 2 to 3 PM EST

Experts have referred to the growing collaboration of North Korea, Iran, China and Russia as the "Axis of Authoritarianism." North Korea has a well-known missile connection with Iran and is growing closer to Russia and China. Iran's relations with Russia and China have also grown much closer. And now we have a conflict in the Middle East brought on by Hamas, a proxy of Iran. The elephant in the room is that Iran has proven its ability to enrich uranium to weapons grade, and unless we fundamentally change our policy toward Iran, the next Middle East conflict will be even more dangerous than today. And there is always a next time.

The Washington Brief's guest panelist will be Amb. Robert G. Joseph, PhD, a leading strategist on the deadly geopolitics in the Middle East and Ukraine, is Senior Scholar at the National Institute of Public Policy and a former Undersecretary of State and advisor to President George W. Bush on WMD.

Register here to attend: washingtonbrief.org/register/

Tuesday, November 7, 2023 from 2 to 3 PM EST

See flier attached

Larry Moffitt
Executive Director
The Washington Times Foundation
3600 New York Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 2000
SanViejo@gmail.com

The Washington Times

FOUNDATION

PRESENTS

THE WASHINGTON BRIEF

North Korea, Iran (Hamas), Russia and China:
The Axis of Authoritarianism

GUEST PANELIST
Amb. Robert G. Joseph

Senior Scholar,
National Institute of Public Policy

Ambassador
Joseph DeTrani

Security Issues commentator; former Special Envoy for negotiations with North Korea

Dr. Alexandre Mansourov

Professor, Center for Security Studies,
Georgetown University

Dr. Michael Jenkins

President,
The Washington Times
Foundation

Experts have referred to the growing collaboration of North Korea, Iran, Russia and China as the “axis of authoritarianism.” North Korea has a well-known missile connection with Iran and is growing closer to Russia and China. Iran's relations with Russia and China have also grown much closer. And now we have a conflict in the Middle East brought on by Hamas, a proxy of Iran. The elephant in the room is that Iran has proven its ability to enrich uranium to weapons grade, and unless we fundamentally change our policy toward Iran, the next Middle East conflict will be even more dangerous than today. And there is always a next time.

Join Amb. Robert G. Joseph, PhD, Senior Scholar at the National Institute of Public Policy and a former Undersecretary of State and advisor to President George W. Bush on WMD, along with Amb. Joseph DeTrani, former U.S. envoy to the six-party talks and Dr. Alexandre Mansourov, professor of security studies at Georgetown, as we examine this aspect of the world order.

Tuesday, November 7, 2023 | 2-3 ET

Register at washingtonbrief.org 