Lima, Peru -- One of our Peruvian Ambassadors for Peace publishes a quarterly business magazine. Last year he asked if we would agree to him publishing reports of UPF activities in Peru.

He began with a supplement of six pages, but now his latest edition has a 14-page UPF supplement, including some of our international news.

He is a very enthusiastic Ambassador for Peace and wants to promote UPF as much as possible.

In a recent meeting with him and his staff, they suggested making a newspaper for students that they could produce and distribute throughout the country. He will be attending the World Summit next month.
