

Dallas YAYAM collects donations to contribute to the National Victory Fund

Kaeleigh Moffitt
October 29, 2019

The Dallas Youth and Young Adult Ministry (YAYAM) officially began collecting donations in September to contribute to the National Victory Fund.

S. Jackson, a local young Unificationist, came up with the idea after being inspired by Rev. Demian Dunkley's, president of Family Federation for World Peace and Unification (FFWPU), presentation at the YAYAM Leaders' Summit.

The Dallas YAYAM has been setting out a large glass jar, which they named The Victory Jar, during their youth events and on Sundays for anyone to offer a donation. The ongoing total will be listed on a chalkboard, slowly hoping to make its way toward a goal of $1000. YAYAM will be collecting donations up until Foundation Day 2020.