

Albania's Head of Academy of Sciences Appointed as Ambassador for Peace

---

TIRANA, 07 JULY 2013

A delegation of UPF Albania visited the Albanian Academy of Sciences (AAS) to appoint the head of this institution, professor Muzafer Korkuti, as an Ambassador for Peace. He welcomed in his office Mr. Bajram Ibraj (UPF Albania chairman), prof. Selman Sheme (founding member of Albanian Peace Council), Mr. Gani Rroshi (FFWPU Albania President) and Mr. Sokol Rexhepi (Secretary General UPF Albania).

This was the second time we visited his office, while almost a month ago we presented him the idea of holding an event at the AAS that was successfully held on June 14 this year. Born in 1936 Prof. Korkuti is an Albanian archaeologist and historian. He is considered an expert on the prehistoric period of Albania's history. At the beginning of our conversation prof. Sheme, a friend and colleague of prof. Korkuti, made a short resume of his life achievements and precious contributions to Albania's archeology and history. While prof. Korkuti praised UPF for the one day symposium we held at the Academy of Science last month.

The meeting lasted about 40 minutes and was concluded with awarding the Ambassador for Peace certificate to the head of the AAS. We also gave him a copy of "As a Peace Loving Global Citizen" in Albanian.

