

Korea And Japan, At The Center Of The Providence, Must Become One

Hak Ja Han

August 1, 2021

Cheon Jeong Gung in Korea and Japanese members in FFWPU Japan Headquarters Heavenly Parent's Holy Community of Japan Subregion 1 Worship Service of Hope for the Realization of a Heavenly Unified World

Beloved public leaders, peace ambassadors and blessed families of Japan!

Considering how Japan is positioned, today, though Japan is hosting the Olympics, it cannot be seen as completely successful as the top leaders and the people of Japan still need to unite. In other words, Japan is equipped in every way but lacks a center. It is also the case that throughout six thousand years of history, humanity has sought a peaceful and free world. Yet there is no hope on the horizon. Through events in the natural environment, God is now showing humanity that he can no longer wait. As long as those countries that we call advanced nations continue to pursue human-centered national interests, peace for all humankind cannot come about.

Moreover, how can the natural disasters we are facing today, as a result of human ignorance, be explained?

Even the most advanced science and technology cannot provide a solution. The highest-placed leaders of nations need to realize that their neglecting to take heed God's warnings and to hear his voice in spite of this reality has caused the indescribable suffering that humankind must today endure. Human civilization is said to have begun from a continental landmass. Considering this, with respect to Korea and Japan, we can say that the history of Korea is longer than that of Japan, and that the culture of the Goguryeo and Baekjae periods may have crossed over to Japan. What should Japan think about this -- the possibility that the Korean people may be the ancestors of the Japanese?

Japan, an island nation, must also have known, from a geographical and geopolitical standpoint, how important the Korean Peninsula is, being the closest access point to the larger continent. This is why many bad things came to be inflicted on Korea throughout history. Now, Japan should no longer be a nation that thinks of only herself. Otherwise, there will be no hope in the future. In the face of this reality, what kind of resolve should Japan's politicians and its people and Korea's top leaders and its people have at this point? What we desire is a world of peace, one great human family, centered on our Heavenly Parent -- centered on God our Creator. This is what we have been dreaming of, singing about and working to realize.

Korea and Japan, which have been placed at the center of the providence, must not only become one, they should fulfill their roles as the mother and as parents to the world. It is unacceptable for Japan to turn away from this reality. We are at the threshold of the original kingdom of heaven on earth that all people have longed to see. If we just weakly sit down at this point, they have no future.

As the Mother of Peace, God's only begotten daughter, True Mother, and Mother of the universe, I sincerely and strongly hope that Korea and Japan will become two nations that attend God, our Creator, and fulfill their responsibilities. May the blessed families, ambassadors for peace and leaders in these two nations hasten the day on which these two nations can pledge and proclaim, with one voice, to be united.