*And that servant who knew his master's will but did not get ready or act according to his will, will receive a severe beating. But the one who did not know, and did what deserved a beating, will receive a light beating. Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more. Luke 12:47-53

*American young people by the hundreds of thousands shed their blood during World War II. Through them God paid such a high price. We can never calculate the value of that blood, and yet America gave it up to enemy hands. America as a nation has failed in the sight of God. She harvested God's gift and then gave it to Satan. Can that be forgiven? Satan, who is receiving all God's beautiful harvest, is not going to be content at that point. His people are coming into the heart of the United Nations to choke the United States to death. SMM, Today in the Light of Dispensational History, Feb 23, 1977

Hello,

Hyung Jin Nim started his sermon by encouraging us to pray for the young couples who have chosen to give their young adult lives to God. Even on the "marriage day" of Shindeuk and Angelica, we have to talk not just about flowers, but also about good and evil. A whole generation has been captured by things that undermine marriage including hedonism, feminism, etc.

The protestant movement was a reaction to corruption in the Catholic church, but the "anti-hierarchy" approach continued in the West and has become dominant. People think that all hierarchies need to be opposed. That is why the West is dying. Even in marriage, God made a hierarchy. There should be God at the top, then the man as the leader in the home, then the wife and children. Without a tradition of respect in the family, the next generation will lose the sense of having to preserve something valuable, the wishes of your parents.

During the American founding and into the 1800s, the husband would call his wife "my lady" and she would call him "my lord." The West wants to oppose any hierarchy, but God has created some hierarchies that are important. Of course, the husband has to submit to God, not just do anything he wants.

What is behind the high rates of divorce in the West? Korea is following this post-modern tradition and declining. Traditional Korean culture has the Confucian tradition of "In" benevolence/compassion/virtue and "Ye" meaning etiquette. For instance, men in Asia don't violate hug other women they're not related to.

Those things are not the center of God, which is love, but they are important. The center of Christian culture is relationship with God and Christ, which Eastern cultures do not have. It's not just about "salvation," it's about a real relationship.

Korean Christian parents and also Unificationist parents raised their children in a type of "Confucianist Christianity," emphasizing norms of etiquette. Both East and West have strengths, but the West emphasizes the individual to the extreme. It is exporting the gay culture and the breakdown of marriage. It has to get back to real relationship with Christ.

God commands wives to respect their husbands. How many pastors say that in their sermons? Husbands must raise their wives lovingly. Male nature is to "just get it done," but the woman is in the emotional realm, so she needs to feel loved!

Women cannot just remain in an immature emotional state, but must seek to mature as the daughter of God. As the scripture says, life and death remain in the power of the tongue, so she must learn to speak with respect.

A man responds better when there is no crying or shouting, more like a negotiation, with a focus on one issue at a time. If it's clearly expressed, without too much drama, most husbands will respond positively. Of course, there are extreme cases of husbands who have a drug or a porn problem, which have to be addressed.

It's important to speak with respect to each other. Some are playfully calling each other "my lord" and "my lady." The West lost that kind of tradition, but can recover or reinvent it.

May God bless you and your families!

Sincerely,

Richard
